Place Coal Orders Now Dealers Urge, See No Improvement

Coal dealers in Newmarket this week warned householders to order their coal as early as possible. Earl Weddell, proprietor of W. H. Eves Co., said that the dealers were only able to supply so much coal each month but by ordering now, householders would give dealers a chance to find out how many would need coal and to prepare to handle it. "The public doesn't realize that the dealers are allowed only so much coal which is sent us on a basis of the amount of coal mined each month," said Mr. Weddell. "Sometimes we get two or three months' supply at oce time and sometimes we miss once or twice. We do try to supply it to each customer in turn as we get it and it would help a lot if the customer's would place their orders now."

Wesley Brooks, Newmarket iown clerk, says, that no soft coal is being used in municipal public buildings. He was commenting on the federal ban on heating in public buildings. L. H. Boyair, chairman of the public school board, said that the coal needs of the public schools were met and that there was little if any heating needed at present. W. J. Geer, chairman of the high-school board, said that there was little heat needed in the high school now. Mr. Brooks. Mr. Bovair and Mr. Geer said that they had not received any official word from Ottawa regarding the heating ban.

Coal dealers in Newmarket were generally agreed that soft cost would be in short supply this winter aithough two dealers said they had good supplies of stoker coal. On checking with jadustries in Newmarket, it was learned that sufficient supplies of soft coal are on hand to keep the plants going.

Frank H. Robinson said that of shorter supply this winter army. than last. He said that the deal-

A resolution, proposed by J. A. Meyer and seconded by Mrs. M. B. Seldon, to set aside a minimum of $1,200 to provide swimming instruction for children between the ages of eight and 14 over a six-week period during the summer, was passed unanimously at the meeting of the Newmarket Community Recreation Council Tuesday night.

"The Red Cross is conducting a water safety campaign at the present time," said C. R. Blackstock, chairman of the council. "It is a lot of money to spend on one project but when you consider the number of children who do not know how to swim, and the number of deaths from drowning each year, it becomes a necessary expenditure."

Fred L. Hall suggested that it would be better to wait for the results of the canvass of the town on behalf of the recreation Frank Burch; men's low hand, council. "It is a lot of money to spend on one project," he said.

PLEASE REMIT IMMEDIATELY

Here's one for the book. A veteran of the R.C.A.F., discharged for the past year after distinguished service overseas, has received a letter from the dominion government saying that a mistake had been made in computing the airman's salary and that he owed the government $400. Would he "please remit that amount immediately?"

When the veteran returned home from overseas last year, he had to wait four months for his discharge while the government caught up with his record and pay-book. When he was finally discharged in April, 1945, he had every reason to believe that he was all clear with the air force. Now, he receives notice that a mistake was made and would he please remit immediately. . The letter is in complete harmony with the usual heavy-handedness of officialdom. "A year after you are discharged, we find we made an error in addition. Please correct it immediately." Who should correct it? If an error has been made, why not charge it up to overhead as a business might do? Or if the government insists on having its financial errors corrected, why not take it out of the salary of the clerk who made the mistake? What galls the airman is that as a condition of his discharge, he was forced to sign away any claim he might have against the government. If the airman were to check back over the years of his service and find that the government underpaid him by $400, he would have no redress. He couldn't write Ottawa asking that the amount be sent him immediately as Ottawa has written him.

The airman tells us that the government notice was a form letter with his name and the amount listed in blanks left for that purpose, so it is safe to assume that other veterans are being told of errors in addition and told to please remit immediately. Whether or not the veteran has a legal liability for the government's mistakes is a question for the courts to decide. Certainly, he has no moral responsibility for such mistakes, note when the government supervises payment during his service and then makes freedom from future liability a condition of discharge.

LIKE IT OR NOT, QUEBEC HAS RIGHTS, TOO

Canada should have only one official language, English, according to the editor of the Stouffville Tribune. What drew the sparks from Mr. A. V. Nolan's pen was Mr. John Bracken's criticism of the governor-general's address for its lack of French. "When he (Mr. Bracken) or any other man gets up in Canada and says some language should be used other than English it will always draw a protest from this paper," says Mr. Nolan.

In Mr. Nolan's opinion, English should be taught to every school child and English should be the official language of Canada. "The French language has been forced upon us too much now by the King government," says Mr. Nolan indignantly. Of course, the King government has been in office a long, long time and our contemporary may be pardoned in thinking that it dates as far back as the 18th century when Quebeckers were granted the right of language, law, and religion. We fear, however, the King government can only be blamed for continuing to acknowledge the rights of a minority under

We agree with Mr. Nolan that Mr. Bracken's protest appeared more of a political gesture than anything else, yet he had good grounds for it. Their Majesties saw fit to make some of their remarks in French during their visit here and it is only fitting that their representative, the governor-general, should follow suit.

There are numerous disadvantages to having two official languages for Canada. The language barrier has been the largest single difficulty in bringing about a better understanding in Canada. : Since the rights of the Quebec minority are guaranteed under law and by the principles of democracy, the cure, it seems to us, is in a more refficient teaching of the French language.

The continuance of French language and custom in Quebec is both the weakness and strength of our nation. The weakness is obvious in the wide divergence of opinion and belief where there should be unity and single purpose. The strength is in the fact that two peoples of different backgrounds have together created a nation of such magnitude. In Canada there is an example of tolerance and democratic belief for all the world.

Whether the editor of the Stouffville Tribune and his readers who complimented him on his stand like it or not, the French in Quebec are an essential part of Canada. Isn't it about time we accepted the fact and acted in a manner to produce better understanding than to continue to equabble among ourselves?

RETURN OF TAXES NEEDED?

In a country with the high productive power that Canada possesses, the current shortages of food are a national disgrace. There could be no objection if the shortage meant that those in greater need were being supplied. But that is not the case. Actually, Canada is on short Beef is in short supply. The packers say they are not buying beef for processing because they can't compete with black market prices. The farmers say the packers are not buying because they are trying to breakdown the price ceiling by creating a shortage. The farmers are not selling because, they say, the prices they are getting won't meet production costs. In this welter of conflicting rumor and truth, the only thing the consumer can say with absolute knowledge is that he is not able to buy beef.

With every indication of a continuing beef shortage, possibilities of a milk shortage become evident. With the milk subsidy cut from 55 cents to 35 cents per cwt., farmers are saying that it is no longer possible to produce milk, even at cost. Milk producers are negotiating with the government but at the time of writing, there has been no evidence of relief.

One cause of this breakdown has been the failure to fully appreciate how interlocking national economy is. A change in one aspect of Canadian economy is ultimately reflected throughout the whole nation. Another cause has been inflationary tendencies in the nations which Canada deals with where controls have been less rigid.

An example demonstrating both these causes is seen in the farm implement industry. Steel wages in the United States have risen making the cost of steel to Canadian users higher. The farm implement industry was granted an increase in ceiling prices to farmers in order to meet this increased cost. The farmers in turn now ask higher prices for their produce in order to meet the new implement costs. Multiply this example throughout Canadian production and the result is inflation.

Though the process is far advanced, it would seem that the only preventative of national inflation is a return to government controls and renewed taxation to cover payment of subsidies. Appalling as the prospect seems, taxation according to means is a far better substitute than ar uncontrolled rise in the cost of living.

LETTERS TO EDITOR WORTHWHILE CRITICISM

One of the heaviest crosses an editor must bear is the indignant reader who attacks his editorials in conversation but when invited to put his criticisms in writing for publication, utters a loud refusal. It is hard to understand. If the indignant one really meant what he said, it might be expected that he would welcome the opportunity to say it where all could read it.

Similarly, when the town council begins a controversial project, the members of the council are criticized in the barber shops and around the street corners but few critics write down their objections for publication. The reason the members of the council pay more attention to a letter in the paper than they do to the verbal criticism is because they would know the writer means what he says while the verbal critic is likely to change his mind.

It is the mistaken notion that only cranks write letters to the editor. The letters to the editor column is like a public forum where citizens may protest or encourage. It is not being a crank to make use of this forum. It is, on the contrary, an exercise of the rights of free speech.

Editors welcome letters of criticism as well as those of praise, in fact, while the latter are appreciated, the former are more valuable. No editor lays claim to omniscience in all he writes; anyone who can add to or correct is welcomed.

There are only two restrictions on letters to the editor. They must be signed by the one who writes them, and they must be within the bounds of good taste and libel laws. With an eye on those rules, the editor handles all letters as they are written without prejudice. The editor looks upon letters in the same light as he looks upon his editorials, as expressions of opinion and as such, not to be withheld because they may be munity, not primarily to amass objected to.

The letters to the editor column is your column. Make use of it and you are doing your part towards maintaining the functions of

There was a flood of complimentary remarks poured in to the editor's sanctum because this column voiced a strong protest when leader of the Progressive Conservative party, John Bracken, criticized the King government for not using some French in the reception accorded the new governor-general of Canada. We seem to have struck a responsive cord among our readers, but the article was not printed for the purpose of receiving praise. It was published because of the direct insult, to our mind, committed by Mr. Bracken.

When he or any other man gets up in Canada and says some language should be used other than English, it will always draw a protest from this newspaper. The French language has been forced on us too much now by the King government, and Mr. Bracken's bid for Quebec on the strength of his protest against the use of English, puts him a way down in our admiration of the

It is costing the taxpayers of Canada thousands of dollars monthly printing the French language on all the government forms and other literature issued by the government, money that could be better used for other purposes. This, we feel, is the belief of the great majority of our people.

TO THE EDITOR

The editor, The Newmarket Era and Express: In the press and over the radio for some weeks past, we have listened to numerous attacks against cooperatives. For the most part these attacks and misleading statements have gone unanswered, until it would seem that no defence could be made. Such is not by any means the case, and with your consent, I propose to answer some of these halftruths, in order that the reading public may be able to judge more adequately the issue at Generally speaking, propaganda can be distinguished from fact by one means. That is, it contains only enough truth to be insidious. Such would seem to be the case with the anti-co-operative broadcasts sponsored by the Income Taxpayers Association. Let us look at some of their utterances. (1) Co-operatives, crown companies, municipal and government concerns "escape payment" of income and excess profits taxes and "the dominion government is deprived of 125 million dollars in taxes each year." (radio).

(2) "So, take the 125 million dollars and spread it among the two and a half million Canadians who did pay income taxes, and you will find that it costs every one of them $50 to make up for the taxes that these profit making organizations escaped." (radio). Surely the absurdity of their proposals is apparent to every thoughtful reader.

The Canadian National Rail way is a government concern, owned by all the people of Canada, and it is estimated that had it been taxed as privately owned ing prime minister. businesses were, it would yield advantage in taking money out another? Would it be good business to hire a staff of accountants to collect the income taxes payable by the government railway, so that they may be deposited in the government treasury under another name? Surely we have enough red tape and flunky-dom in high positions without adding to the endless list. Yet that is what the Income Taxpayers Association proposes.

Further, they would tax the Toronto Transportation Commission, Ontario Hydro-Electric. Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta publicly owned telephone systems, and if such recommendations were adopted we would to at this session. see the dominion government taxing provincial, publicly owned enterprises while with the other hand, doling back to them funds to maintain essential services. And an army of officials to keep the records. Were ever such asinine proposals submitted to the Canadian public?

Co-operatives and publicly owned businesses differ from private corporations in several respects. Only one need concern us here. Briefly it may be stated thus: co-operatives and public business exist to serve the comprofits. By grouping co-ops with government owned concerns, the sponsors of these broadcasts have practically admitted this. And, as all the profits of co-ops are returned to the people, what taxing them?

$50? Judging from present taxus to the question, "Who composes the Income Taxpayers Association?"

During the past months they have spent large sums on broadcasts and propaganda. That is not an indication that the members are persons of low income, but rather, quite the opposite. Was ever so much money spent by lawyers and business men in a spontaneous effort to help people of low incomes? Or are they trying to help those who are opposed to co-operatives and public ownership, whether they produce tax revenues or not? community. Anyone may beto the people.

Dr. Boulding and Mr. Davies. "The appeal will provide funds for our missions and for providing for the old age of the clergy," Dr. Boulding said. Previous to the war the missions in the north and west were largely maintained by the church in England but now they are unable to do so. And her brother, who runs a store, says he worries too about the money from the cash register! Safeguarding your money is one of the prime services rendered by your bank.

What a relief it is when you have deposited your money in the bank! No more worry lest it should be lost or stolen! You need only keep a little ready cash in your pocket or in the house. Bills can be paid by cheque and your cancelled cheque is your receipt.

When the teller hands you your pass book, you glance at the balance and know to a cent how much money you have. You are so accustomed to your bank's accuracy that you seldom bother to check the figures.

The very fuct that you-and some 5,000,000 others-take all these conveniences as a matter of course is a daily demonstration of your confidence in the dependability and efficiency of your bank.

To settle this debt the government in 1681 offered to son William a vast territory across the water-Pennsylvania - and in this new world Penn began his famous social experiment, and was the instrument used to help many Quaker families to begin life again. Here they found peace and developed the colony to a
